Advent: The Season of Hopeful Expectation

This week we begin the beautiful season of Advent! Only 22 days to prepare our hearts for Christmas. At school, each class will begin their day with an Advent wreath ceremony. Primary grade classes will also meet for a daily celebration of the Jesse Tree.

Sister Mary Louise and the 5th and 6th grade classes prepared an online Advent calendar for us! Each day includes a reflection written by the students about the Mass readings for that day. Enjoy! Here is the link: <https://www.thinglink.com/scene/1122671229543645187>

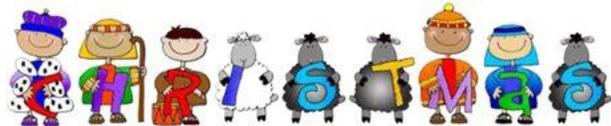

The students learned to navigate a LOT of technology to put their calendar together! They worked in pairs to read the readings for one day of Advent (USCCB website) then wrote a short reflection about what they read. They then selected a background from options Sister Mary Louise gathered for them (Padlet.com). They used an online graphic design program (befunky.com) to put the picture and reflection together and then saved it to the Google drive. Sister was then able to upload them to a link organizer (Thinglink.com) to create the calendar. Whew! That was a lot of technology! Well done students!

There are so many beautiful Advent traditions!

I encourage you to choose one and gather your family together to prepare for the coming of Christ.

Entering into Advent

Michael Capone, father of Gianna in 4th grade, has graciously offered to help us enter into the season of Advent at our monthly assembly on December 5th. CDs will be for sale ($10) in the office or can be downloaded at: michaelcapone.com/wp/music-downloads/

Meal Train and Spiritual Bouquet for Attwool Family

As many of you know, one of our kindergarteners, Zach Attwool, is being treated for leukemia. A friend of their family has set up a meal train for them. Here is the link if you are would like to help: mealtrain.com/wy5yog More dates will be added after the holidays.

Annie DeCet and Lisa Viray are also putting together a spiritual bouquet for Zach. "Spiritual bouquets are prayers or devotional acts that the giver has or will offer for the recipient...this can be a number of masses attended, Holy Communion offered, rosaries and/or other prayers or good deeds performed. It includes the sender's name and the offering." Annie and Lisa are hoping to make it into an airplane mobile. So, for example, on one plane it could say "the Viray's are praying an Our Father for you daily." Please consider saying a prayer or doing something extra for Zach. Please contact Lisa or Annie if you are able to participate.

Christmas Program Refreshments
